INTRODUCTORY

WE are the successors to the C.A.Randig Apiary and Nurseries. Mr. C. A. Randig was engaged in the Apiary and Nursery business in Europe from 1870 to 1881, emigrating to the United States in 1881, settling in Taylor, Texas, where he resumed the same business. In 1899 he moved to Bloomington, Calif., and continued along those same lines until the time of his death.

After my father's death we lost practically everything through severe freezes and adverse business conditions. After losing everything there we moved to San Bernardino, Calif. Here in 1918 I established what is now known as the Martin E. Randig Apiary and Water Gardens.

We have steadily grown so that we are now again one of the leading growers and distributors in this line.

As before, we strive to give you the best service and plants possible. You will find our prices reasonable. These lilies are not raised in swamps, they are raised in modern concrete pools, with the best of care, assuring you good strong plants and bulbs,—the best money can buy. Varieties are true to name.

Our lilies have been awarded the blue ribbon or First Prize for being the best collection of waterlilies shown at The Southern California Los Angeles County Fair, held at Pomona in September, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, and 1940. They won an award of Merit (Highest award given to anybody) at San Francisco World's Fair at Treasure Island, and The Blue Ribbon at The Sacramento State Fair for First Prize, and won special recognition for new hybrids shown at New York World's Fair 1940.

Our Advanced Packing Methods and years of experience assure the safe arrival of all plants, our many repeat orders speak for themselves.

We will answer any questions concerning water gardening.

POOL

The pool may be of any size desired. The depth should be about 24 inches for large and formal pools where boxes are used to plant lilies in, and 18 inches deep for small pools, or where lilies are planted loose in the bottom. Pools are stronger if basin-shaped and sides sloped at about a 60-degree angle to the bottom.

LOCATION

The pool should be built where it will get all the sunshine possible, or at least six or seven hours each day during the summer months. Do not build pool near walnut, pepper, fig or any similar tree whose leaves have strong acid content, because the falling leaves will get into the water and poison the gold fish.

PREPARATION OF POOL FOR PLANTING

After pool has been cemented, fill with water and let it soak for one week. Then drain and scrub pool, after which it is ready for planting. Any good garden soil is suitable for water gardens. Mix soil with about one-fourth well-rotted cow manure. If boxes are used, in the 24-inch deep pools, use those made of pine, metal or stone, about 10 to 12 inches deep and 24-inches square for each plant. Set boxes about three to four feet apart on bottom of pool, then fill to within one inch of the top with prepared soil, then cover with one inch of coarse sand, leaving plant open. After that it is ready to refill with water.

In the 18-inch deep pools, cover bottom to a depth of six inches with prepared soil. Set lilies three or four feet apart with growing points just emerging from soil. Then cover one inch deep with coarse sand, leaving plant open. It is now ready to refill. Place end of hose in a sack and tie around hose so water will not stir up mud. Fill slowly until two or three inches of water are in the pool before turning on stronger. In this manner the pool will be kept clear. Do not add more water than is necessary to keep up evaporation, as too much fresh water chills the lilies and retards their blooming.

WHEN WE SHIP

Hardy lilies start growing here the latter part of January, and we ship to the Western and Southern states from then on until October 1st. Most of the tropical lilies are tender and should not be set out until April 15, and farther north, six weeks later.

The star lilies and the leaf propagators are more hardy than the other tropicals, and can be set a month earlier, i.e., March 1, for Western and Southern states, May 1 for Central and June 1 for Northern states and Canada.

Make all checks or money-orders payable to Martin E. Randig Water Gardens. On all California orders include 3% for sales tax.

HOW WE SHIP

All shipments are made by parcel post, which gives you the fastest possible delivery right to your home. We guarantee safe arrival of all plants. Our advanced methods of packing and years of experience assure the arrival of plants in as good condition as when they leave our nurseries. After unpacking bulbs, place immediately in water until you are ready to plant them. All complaints must be made within ten days after receipt. We pay postage on all orders of $1.00 or over.

$2.00

Gloriosa

Lucida

Crimson blossoms with yellow center. Has beautiful green pads, mottled with maroon $1.50

William Falconer

The deepest red of all red water lilies, being a very dark satiny red. A very shy bloomer $3.00

YELLOW SHADES

Sunrise

This beautiful lily has enormous crepe-like blossoms measuring ten inches or more across, of a bright, sulphur yellow. The blossoms of this variety are often held on slender stems quite a distance above the water. A very good bloomer; here in California it blooms almost the year around $1.75

Chromatella, or Marliac Yellow

The best and still the most popular yellow water lily. It will bloom even under the most adverse conditions. Flowers are of good size and bright canary yellow. Pads are light green, heavily spotted with maroon $1.00

Sulfura Odorata

A sharp petaled yellow of the Odorata type. A good bloomer, resembling a small Sunrise. Blossoms are held well above the water $1.00

Chinese Pigmy

A little jewel for the tub garden. Perfect in form, resembling the larger types in form of blossoms. A remarkably good bloomer for so small a lily $.75

Moori

One of the newer and darkest hardy yellow water lily. Like the other yellows it is an excellent bloomer. Blossoms resemble Chromatella $1.50

SUNSET COLORS

Comanche

The best bloomer of them all, like Chromatella it will bloom even under the most unfavorable conditions. Largest of the sunset colors. The Blossoms are deep Orange Red, darkening as the flower ages $1.25

Complete List of Tropical Water Lilies

MRS. MARTIN E. RANDIG, (Described on Page 13)

(Patented No. 294)

Tropical Star Lilies

Tropical Star Lilies give a profusion of bloom.

THE MOST HARDY TROPICAL LILY

These lilies are the easiest grown of all Tropical lilies and give you the most bloom. They are the easiest to keep over winter as they will go completely dormant before the heavy freezes come. When they are dormant merely take the bulbs and bury them in a can of moist soil or sand and set them in the basement away from frost. Protect them against rats or mice as they will destroy them if they get to them. Set them back in your pool again in Spring when danger of frost is over.

Early orders of Star Lilies are sent as started tubers, later they are sent as plants.

Rose Star

The beautiful starry blossoms of this lily are a brilliant rose, having a very strong spicy fragrance. They are borne on strong stems well above the water and are the most ideal for cut flowers. You can expect from three to seven open blossoms on a plant all through the long summer months $1.25

Orchid Star

A beautiful orchid pink, with a purplish cast toward the tips of the petals. This is one of the largest flowered and strongest growers of the Star Lilies. All the Star Lilies are very much alike, the difference being mostly in color. This variety has large pale green leaves with scalloped edges turning up slightly..... $1.50

Randig Water Gardens, 941 Cardiff Avenue, San Bernardino, California

Stella Gurney, or Pink Star

A beautiful clear pink resembling the other star lilies in habit....$1.25

Purple Star, or William Stone

One of the darkest of all Tropical lilies, being an intense purple the first day of opening, changing to blue as the blossoms age. As the other Star Lilies, it is a splendid cut flower, lasting from three to five days after cutting. A very free bloomer.....$1.25

Blue Star

This beautiful lily is very much like the other Star Lilies in description, being clear true blue in color, with a yellow center, a characteristic of all day-blooming Water Lilies. A very good bloomer and cut flower....$1.25

VIVIPAROUS, OR LEAF PROPAGATOR

Mrs. Martin E. Randig (Pat'd. No. 294)

This gorgeous lily, illustrated on page 11, is one of our own creations, and although we have shown this lily in our display pond since 1931, where it has been admired by thousands of people, we have not had sufficient stock to put it on the market.

We introduced this lily for the first time last season. This is undoubtedly the most colorful of all the blue or purple Water Lilies and one of the most fragrant. The blossoms are well formed, with broad spreading petals attaining a spread of from seven to nine inches in diameter. We have tested this lily for winter hardiness and it has more than fulfilled our expectations. The pads are beautiful rich deep green.

We have a patent on this water lily, which means that it is not to be propagated or distributed by anyone other than our Water Gardens or assigns For only $2.25

Patricia

A dark rose, of moderate growth. This is a very good variety for tub gardens or small pools.....$1.75

Panama Pacific

A beautiful royal purple, one of the most popular purples. Very sweet scented. The outer sides of buds and septals are speckled with maroon$1.50

August Koch

This beautiful blue lily was developed by August Koch, of Garfield Park, Chicago. It is a beautiful true blue with broad uniform petals. It is very fragrant, and blooms very freely. It is one of the most popular blue lilies and one of the most hardy.....$1.50

Mrs. Griffith or (Royal Purple)

A very dark, royal purple of medium size. Buds and sepals speckled as on Panama Pacific blossoms.....$1.50

Amethyst

A very good tub garden lily. It is a pale lavender or amethyst in color; a very good bloomer and leaf propagator.....$1.50

KEEP THIS IN MIND

We do not ship old kept-over Tropicals. We ship fine, vigorous young Tropical Lilies. These lilies are in bud and bloom when sent. They are raised in outdoor pools.

A vigorous plant of this type will pass and eclipse any two-year-old Tropical Lily in size of bloom and vigor before a third of your blooming season is over. From then on it will never be overtaken by the former. Instead of having a bunch of small blossoms you will have prize winners for size and color. We use this stock for all prize winning display purposes.

Enchantress

Our introduction for 1939. We have shown the flowers of this lily, (a beautiful large rose) at the Fairs for quite a number of years, but have never offered it for sale as our stock of them was too short. I believe it is the best in this color on the market. Buds and sepals are striped maroon, leaves lightly speckled maroon. Each.....$2.00

Mrs. Edward Whitaker (Marmorata)

A beautiful large lavender blue variety. In color it is very much like Whitaker Gigantea, the petals are more pointed and not so broad. It is very fragrant and free blooming. The leaves are beautifully marbled with maroon. Buds and sepals of flowers of this variety are speckled deep green $1.50

Pennsylvania (Blue Beauty)

This gorgeous true blue lily is one of the oldest blue Water Lilies and still one of the most popular. Its giant blue flowers are very fragrant; they have a yellow center, stamens are tipped with blue. Buds and sepals are speckled and lined with maroon. If given plenty of root room, this variety will give you an endless display of flowers over 10 inches in spread, all Summer. It is a real Blue Beauty, being sold by some water gardens under that name. You can't go wrong with this one at.....$1.50

Pennsylvania, or Blue Beauty

Blue Triumph

A gorgeous blue lily, almost identical with Pennsylvania; it has the same maroon speckled buds and septals, and its other characteristics $1.50

Mrs. Ed. Whitaker

Whitaker (Gigantea)

A giant light lavender-blue with yellow center. Stamens tipped with blue. One of the largest of tropical display lilies; blossoms often attain a size of 12 inches in diameter.

Pink Pearl

A very popular clear pink tropical day bloomer. A very good bloomer and very fragrant. Pads are light green with no other marking. You will like this pretty pink. Each.....$1.50

Golden West

This gorgeous new hybrid is peach pink in the earlier part of the season. As the plant develops size the color gradually changes to light apricot at the base of the petals running into cinnamon rose, using the royal Horticultural color Chart for color comparison.

Blossoms are of good size and very fragrant. Pads are light green, heavily freckled maroon.

Golden West

This lily, the first of the apricot shades to be offered the public, is one of several developed in our gardens in 1934. We released a few to botanical gardens in 1939 and in 1940 it was first introduced to the public by us through various Eastern gardens and by our own gardens.

For Only $3.50

New York,
September 3, 1940

Dear Mr. Randig:

I cannot let an opportunity go by to compliment you on' the beauty of the two water lilies that I obtained from you this Spring, namely "Golden West" and "Mrs. Martin Randig."

These two were planted at the New York World's Fair pools properly named, and I can assure you they created a great deal of admiration as they certainly are two of the handsomest water lilies so far created in my opinion.

The one bulb of each that were also planted at The Gardens have been greatly admired by the public, and a lot of comments have been made on both plantings—in fact at the present time the water lilies both at The Gardens and at The Fair are outstanding exhibits of beauty and they are flowering profusely.

I saw the pools at The Gardens two days ago and they just staggered me as to your two beautiful plants. I noted especially and counted the flowers and buds appearing above the surface of the water of the "Golden West." There were two in full flower and ten buds ready to bloom within the next week.

The plant of your "Fred Rossiter" also proved a great asset to the displays.

Thanking you again.

Yours very truly,
STANLEY G. RANGER.
New York City.

Night Blooming Lilies

These lilies, termed as Night Blooming Lilies, are not strictly night blooming, as they will remain open until almost noon before closing, and as the season progresses and the days get cool they remain open day and night.

These lilies originally come from two sources, the red ones are found in India and the white ones in Africa. These varieties have been taken by hybridists and crossed, so that now they are obtainable in all shades of red, pink, and white.

We have selected what we think are the best in each color and are listing those, as it is almost impossible to list them all.

La France

This beautiful soft La France pink night bloomer was developed in our

White Night Bloomer (Missouri)

gardens (1939). Its giant spreading blossoms make it a much sought after variety. We offered it to the public for the first time in 1936. Our stock of this lily is still short, as it is a slow propagator. It is a very good bloomer. We have tested it for five years and are very much pleased with it. The pads are thick bronze with beautifully scalloped edges. Postpaid $1.75

Missouri

The best of the white night-blooming varieties. A giant for bloom and leaf spread. Each $1.75

TROPICAL WATER LILY SEED

Owing to the warm summers, many of the tropical lilies bear seed here, although they do not in other localities. We have seed of quite a few, some of which we are listing for anyone wishing to experiment in raising them from the seed. These seeds must be planted early in the spring as soon as the water averages a temperature of 50 degrees. Use a heavy loam without fertilizer or leaf mold. Sow in pot and cover lightly with soil. Then submerge pot under water to a depth of from four to six inches. In about ten days little green threads will come through the soil, followed in a few days by a leaf. Soon floating leaves will appear. Pot plants in separate pots when third floating leaf appears.
